Prehistoric history does not tell us where man first began cultivating cereals as a grain for his family and for the people of his settlement. But archaeological excavations have found vestiges of this cultivated plant in settlements more than 10,000 years old in the Mesopotamian region. I would not be surprised if this wild grass was first cultivated in the area, especially near the river Tigris, Syria, Iraq, Lebanon, Babylon, etc. After that, the cultivation of this particular wild grass, in the form of wheat spread all over the world, including Europe, Asia, Africa, - especially Egypt, where this grain was brewed into beer and drunk in large quantities by Pharoah and peasant alike millenniums ago - Turkey and all the places where there were hungry mouths to feed, and there were fertile lands to provide that grain to feed them. This book introduces you to one of these most prolific and healthy cereals - wheat....
